

I think as far as superior technology is concerned, Sorenson provides it but I dislike the idea that I can't use my Sorenson to call other relays unless I give my ip nbr. On top of that the d-link and the Sorenson on the same computer have the potentially of problems occurring as a result of using two different systems. My very first call to a Sorenson relay operator was out of the stone age in the sense i had to wait for availability.